Conversation Center

Creating a Open Culmination space of different conversations allows people to look past our building form and focus on moving throughout distinct nodal points of conversation

We knew that we needed to create different environments to allow for different types of conversations to flourish. There are conversations that range from private, to semi-private, to public. The open circulation of the presentation space allows for public open conversation, the space is depressed 3 feet which allows it to distinctly be its own space while still being an open center to the building

What Creates Conversation?

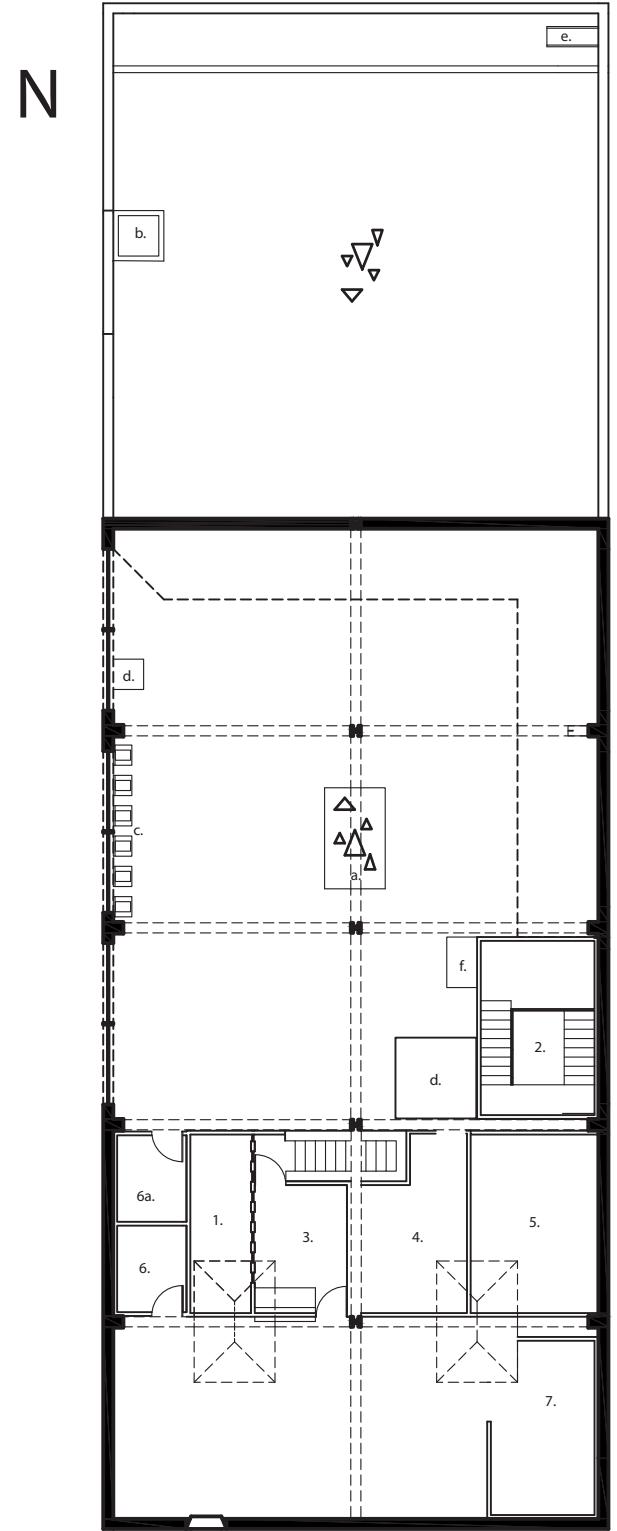

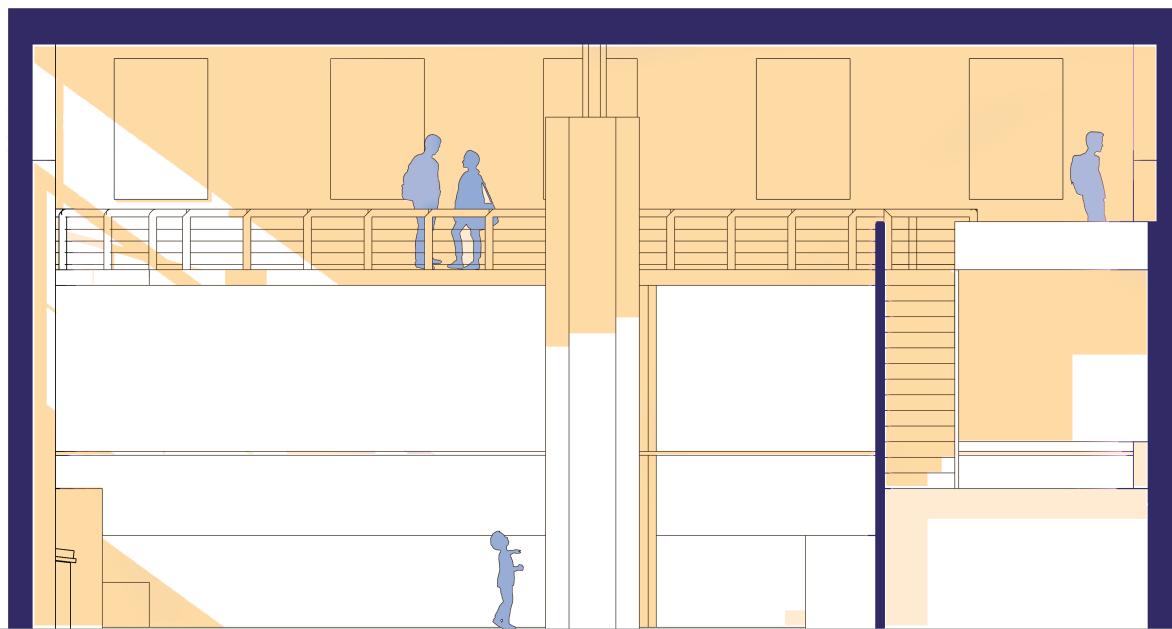

Galeria

Luis Barragan Museum

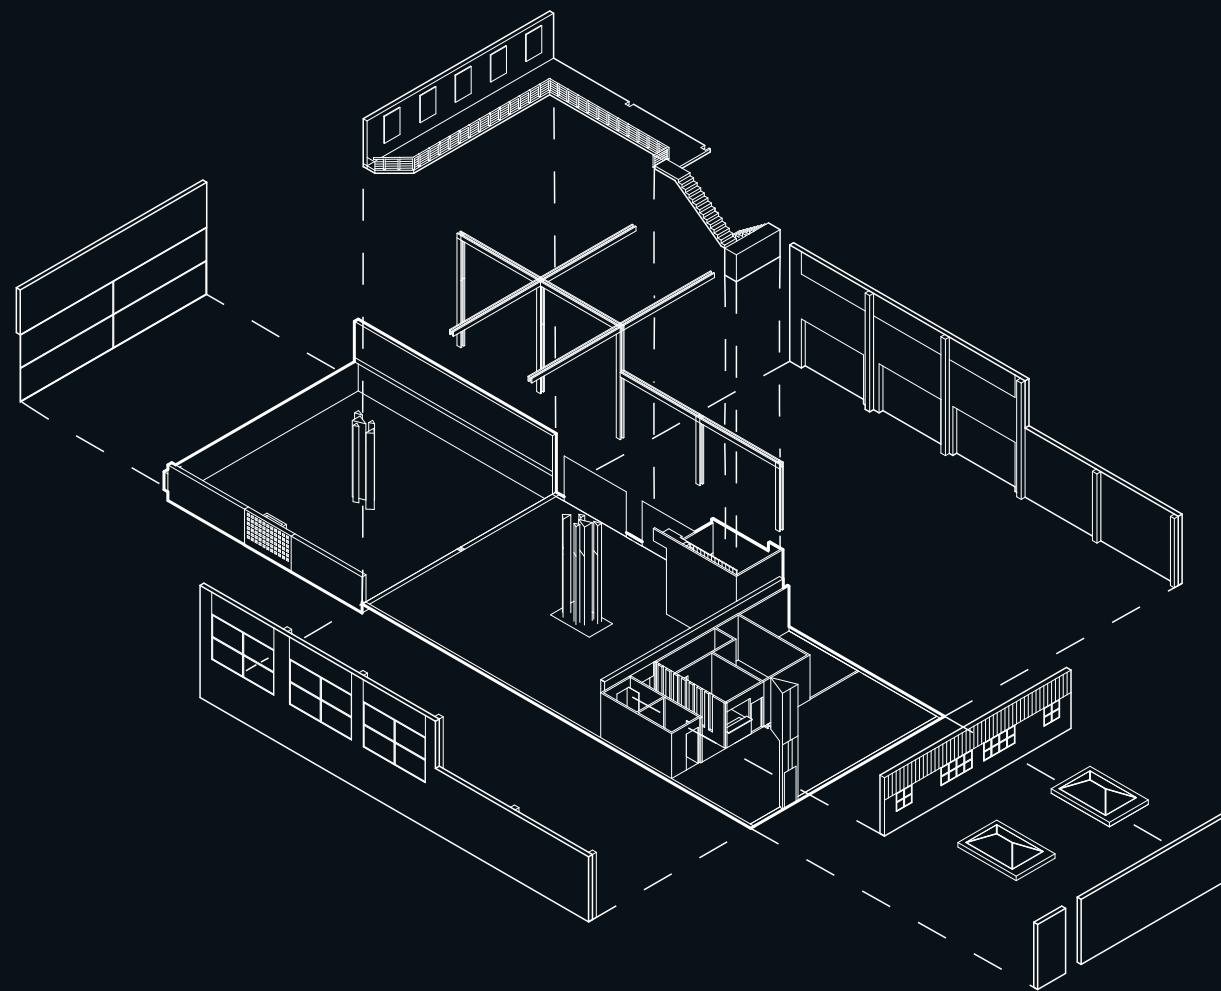

Walkthrough

Program: Create a Gallery based on an Architect and represent them throughout

Working on this Gallery I focused on the experience throughout the space and how Barragan uses his Principles and Techniques of Color, Light & Texture to create movement and a desire to explore this Gallery.

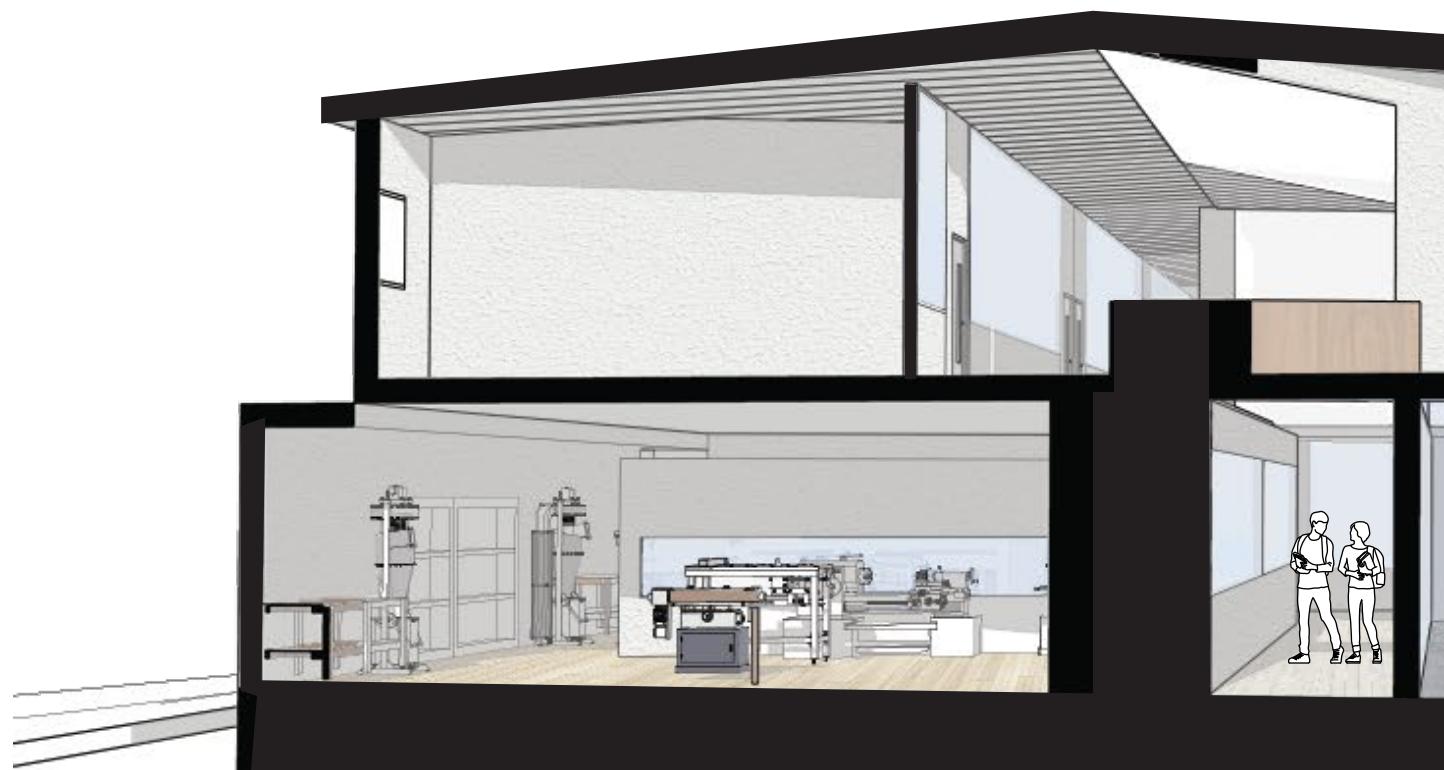

Retail Facade

Focusing on the Creation of this Retail Facade in Rome, Italy. Located across from the Palazzo Farnese. I focused on breaking away from the traditional proportions of Classical architecture and instead utilized free form lines to create not only the dynamic lines on the Facade but influence the sculptures and movement in the plaza as well

GreenBound

Environmental issues are very important in New Jersey, with Newark at the forefront of the state's worries. Newark's industrial past has left a legacy of pollution and poor air quality as a densely populated urban area. Addressing these concerns is critical to protecting public health and promoting sustainable growth in the state.
